Land Acknowledgement

We would like to acknowledge that this session is presented and recorded on the traditional land of the Potawatomi, Menominee, Ojibwe, Ohlone, Coast Salish, Muckleshoot, Stillaquamish, Suquamish, and Duwamish people past and present.

We honor with gratitude the land itself and people of these tribes.

Thank you.

Participatory Land Acknowledgement

Please let us know the indigenous lands that you are on in the chat!

If you are not sure whose land you are on, and are based in the United States or Canada, you can either:

- Enter your location here: <https://native-land.ca/>
- Or enter your city or zip code here: <https://land.codeforanchorage.org/>

Next Steps To Strengthen Knowledge, Relationships, and Accountability to Support Indigenous Communities

First Steps: Learn about the Indigenous lands you are on and the Indigenous people who are part of your community.

Next Steps:

- Learn about the current context that is affecting Indigenous People and Tribes in your community;
- Build knowledge and relationships with Indigenous-led organizations, coalitions, and organizing groups;
- Support Indigenous-led work and movement-building.

Resources to Explore

Native Governance Center (nativegov.org) provides multiple resources to help move forward, including, “Beyond Land Acknowledgement: A Guide,” and “Beyond Land Acknowledgement Explainer Video.”

Defining Collective Impact

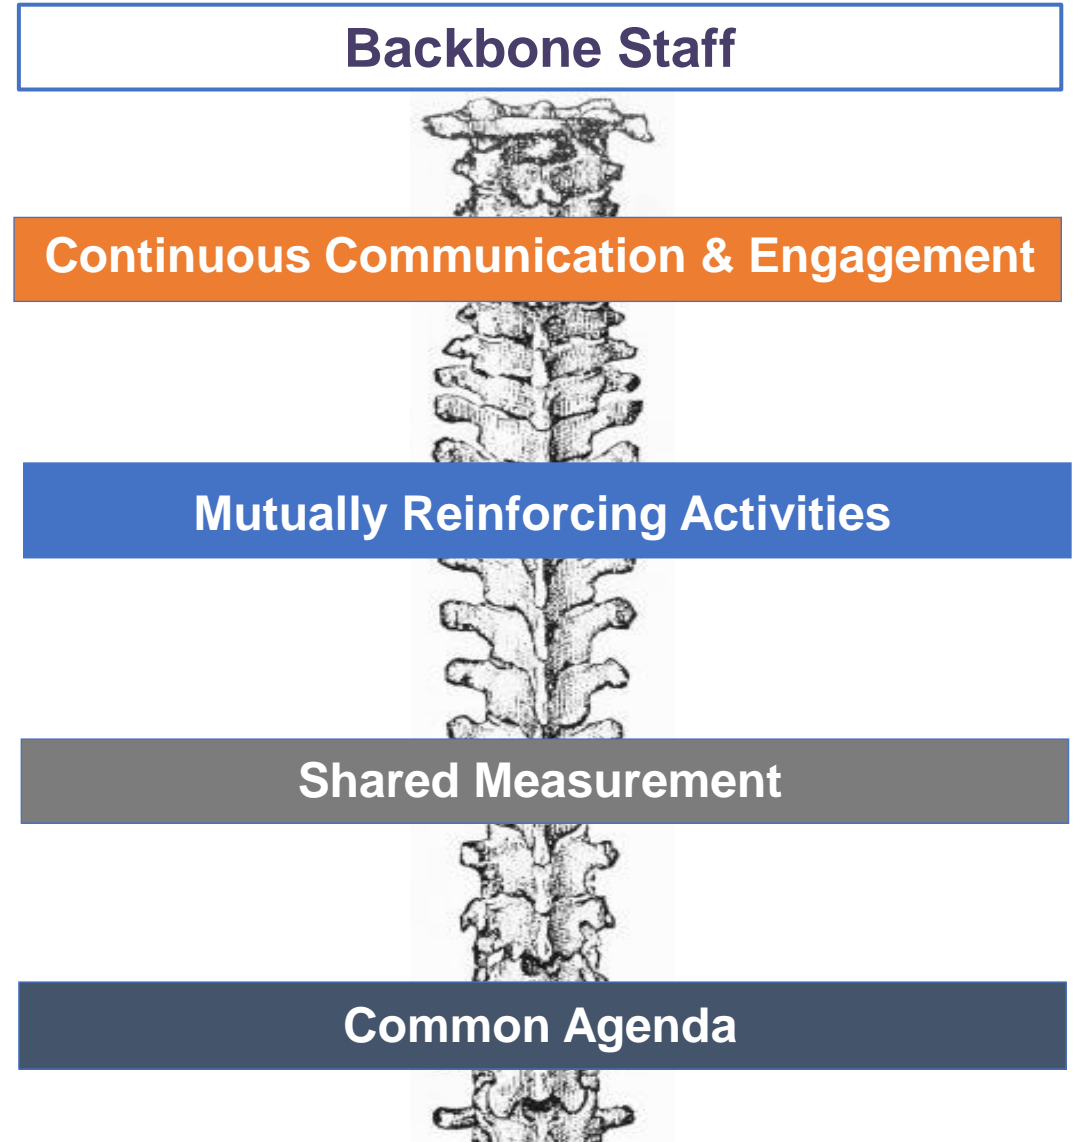

Collective impact

is a network of community members, organizations, and institutions that advance equity

by learning together, aligning, and integrating their actions to achieve population and systems-level change

Key Mindset Shifts

From independently setting a vision

To stewarding the network to build and agree to a common agenda

From focusing on program-level results

To pursuing population-level outcomes

From centering the backbone organization

To aligning, motivating, and managing a network to act together

Six Practices

1. Results-based
2. Project management
3. Political savvy
4. Centering equity
5. Inclusive culture
6. Adaptive leadership
